Subject: New Version of DD Form 1085, Domestic Freight Routing Request and Order

Purpose: To inform the Department of Defense (DoD) shippers that a new version of the DD Form 1085, Domestic Freight Routing Request and Order form has been published and is available for immediate use.

Be Advised: A section to identify the desired accessorial codes is one of the modifications, along with blocks for adding the Moving Unit Name, stating when Unit Load Plans are included, and indicating when Port Call Orders have been received. Outdated information about private siding, contract terms, disability costs, and endorsements have been removed.

This update aims to streamline the form, making it easier to use and comprehend, and highlight the relevant information to establish negotiated rates for volume moves and unique shipments.

The form can be found on the following website:
